Wedding Player — Press Kit

One-Liner

Wedding Player is purpose-built for wedding ceremony music: offline, panic-proof, and perfectly timed.

Overview

Wedding Player is a purpose-built app for managing and playing ceremony music at weddings, available now on iOS with the Android version in the final stages of development. It works offline, supports smooth crossfade transitions, and features Live Mode with oversized controls designed for nervous guests. The app ships with Wedding Player Originals — a curated collection of 35 fully licensed instrumental ceremony tracks — so couples can run a complete ceremony with no Apple Music subscription and no need to source their own audio. Available as a one-time purchase for couples (£7.99) or as an annual Professional Licence for venues, celebrants, and co-ordinators who run ceremony music across multiple weddings (£49.99/year).

The Story

Wedding Player was created by Don McAllister, a semi-retired tech content creator and former owner of ScreenCastsOnline, for his daughter Nicola’s wedding in March 2026. When he needed ceremony music that just worked — offline, perfectly timed, and impossible to mess up under pressure — nothing existed. He couldn’t find an app that mixed custom-edited tracks with streaming songs in a single playlist, protected against someone tapping the wrong version, and faded a song at the exact moment she reached the altar. So he built one.

It worked flawlessly on the day, and the venue co-ordinator asked for a copy afterwards, unprompted. That was the moment he knew it wasn’t just a personal project.

“I built Wedding Player for my daughter’s wedding. Now it’s yours.” — Don McAllister, developer
